Hey,

As the launch of my "Five Element Reiki" home study course approaches, I wanted to do two things today:

(1) share some feedback from previous students who have taken the course. These testimonials will give you an idea of what you can expect from my course and how it has helped others transform their practice.

(2) Open pre-launch bookings now so that you can gain the benefit of a reduced price course and extra eBook right now.

Testimonials

Now, you know that Five Element Reiki is a system of energy healing that combines the traditional principles of Reiki with the ancient Chinese philosophy of the Five Elements. This unique approach to Reiki has received glowing reviews from students who have taken the Five Element Reiki course, and many have reported experiencing significant benefits both personally and professionally as a result of learning this system, from when I was teaching it some years ago.

So, Sandy Busby, from North Yorkshire, reports that after using Five Element Reiki to balance her Water element, she has experienced a range of positive effects. She says, "I'm feeling all sorts of benefits - I'm not as fatigued, and when I do get tired I recover quickly. I'm much more at peace and can let go of anxieties and worries quite easily now and this in turn helps to maintain energy levels." She also reports that her relationship with her husband has improved as a result of the treatments he has received.

Cassandra van Dijk, from the Netherlands, praised the course content, presentation, and support provided by the course instructor, Taggart. She says, "The material is clear and well written. The course is well structured, with very clear stages and assignments, which I appreciated very much... You are very supportive, both 'live' and at a distance." Cassandra found that the Five Element Reiki system is more powerful than standard Reiki, and offers a wider range of possibilities in treating disturbances that might not respond to other methods.

Jill Collins, from the Isle of Man, reports that Five Element Reiki has produced quicker results than traditional Reiki treatments, even with Karuna. She says, "I find the Five Element Reiki system brings quicker results than the usual Reiki treatments even with Karuna." Jill's friends reported that the Five Element Reiki was stronger and more relaxing than Usui Reiki on its own.

Jill Keat, from Anglesey, reports that her friends were delighted with the results of the Five Element Healing, and felt the energy was stronger and the relaxation deeper than Usui Reiki. She says, "The only trouble is my friends all want to have the Five Element Reiki each time we have a session, I have only done one complete Usui Reiki since I started! It certainly complements the Usui Reiki, an inseparable companion really."

Irene Hill, from Scotland, reports that she was initially intimidated by the course, but once she started reading the manual, she was completely fascinated. She found that Five Element Reiki addresses deep-seated emotional problems much more effectively than traditional Reiki, and that her clients have reported feeling "so different from the normal Reiki, so much deeper and they all have felt particularly good after it."

In conclusion, students of the Five Element Reiki course have reported experiencing a wide range of benefits, from improved relationships and reduced anxiety to more effective healing treatments for their clients. The course is well structured, comprehensive, and supported by a knowledgeable instructor. If you're looking to enhance your Reiki practice, the Five Element Reiki course may be just what you're looking for.
