

Dear Friends:

It is with great honor to share with you a special collaboration I've been working on with Staff Sergeant Jaymes Poling of the 82nd Airborne Division in the US Military. We're bringing together his story of life in the military and his difficult transition home surrounded by a suite of music I'm writing to create an on-stage touring production. We'd love for you to learn more and watch our video by clicking the above photo, and would like to ask for your support in helping to take our initiative to the next level.

At just 17 years old, Jaymes joined the military for 8 years and spent 3 years as an infantryman with the 82nd Airborne Division in Afghanistan. Now he's back in school and is the president of the Veterans Association at John Carroll University.

Through our initiative, Jaymes wants to improve dialogue and support within the veteran community, and I want to help bring this to civilians so we can better understand a soldier's life and transition home. We believe this initiative can help improve support of our veterans, and are looking to involve various organizations that can help provide concrete avenues for assistance.

If you're free TODAY or this weekend, Jaymes and I will be LIVE on my Facebook Page talking about veterans, music and answering questions about our latest project!

Join the conversation TODAY at 1:30pm & 6pm EST and throughout the weekend below:

As you may know, I'm very passionate about finding creative ways through music to build bridges between communities and to support important causes. This project was born out of a collaboration Jaymes and I did around "Soldier's Thing" from my latest album "Short Stories." The music video was meant to simply provide a glimpse into Jaymes' journey, and important veteran feedback made us focus more on what we can do for our communities. Getting to know and work with Jaymes over the past year has been such an impactful experience for me, and we're thrilled to now move forward in a big way.

Jaymes and I are very passionate and committed to our collaboration that was born right here in Cleveland, and we'd be grateful for your support in helping to take our work to the next level.

As a THANK YOU, there are many exclusive experiences Jaymes and I put in place, and you can click the photo below or HERE for complete details. Please feel free to reach out to me directly with any questions you may have.

Sincerely,
Dominick Farinacci
